“ Very sad and shocked to hear of Danny's passing. We became friends through business we shared via Echo Logistics, and Western Reserve Chemical here in Ohio. He was always so polite, diligent, and detail-oriented, and he always made our shipments happen. We utilized Echo almost exclusively for that reason. I will miss our conversations and laughter. Rest easy brother

“ Danny was such a wonderful young man, so polite and always so friendly. We had a great time at the RV show and lunch in Grand Rapids with he and Patrick a couple weeks ago. Really enjoyed the day. Enjoyed his company when he would visit with us, and loved to feed him some good deserts. We will miss having him in our lives.

“ DannyB....The guy that demanded to be center of attention. Even if he didn't mean to he could somehow turn a bad day into tears of laughter. At first it might be annoying, but somehow somehow he would flip that frown upside down. His smile was infectious, and magnetic. For someone that had some hard day's of his own, you would not know it... He was never afraid to say what was on his mind- and sometimes you wondered if he forgot to turn that "filter button" on, but the truth is- he was REAL. He always said I love you to everyone and he meant it. Yes Danny talked a lot, and LOUDLY. You knew he was in the room before he was in the room. He also listened loudly, and never forgot to ask about what it was you discussed the last time. I am flooded with so many memories, it's hard to pick just one...I'm now realizing that Danny was there for every major thing in my life for the past 15 years..I've seen him in both good times and bad, and almost every time his optimism never wavered. And when it did- he talked about it, and it wasn't too long before that smile crept up again. The thing that amazes me and makes me miss him even more is knowing that he had this effect on so many people. I believe that anyone who knew him could read this and say "Me too"....How did you do that Danny?
