“ I was one of the nurses that took great pleasure in caring for this sweet angel in her final weeks, and I have been truly blessed having had this opportunity. The joy and love that came from her each day, even fighting through all the pain, was a constant reminder to take nothing for granted each day. The love I witnessed as her family and friends kept vigil at her bedside the entire stay at our hospice, was a living testimony to the kind of person she was. She was kind, patient, and loved her family and life so much, I will keep her children in my thoughts and prayers. God Bless you and thank you for the great privilege I have had to know and care for this wonderful lady.

“ I have lots of memories of my friend Donna but none as sweet as the first time I met her. We had just moved in to the neighborhood I didn't know anybody, walking to school on my very first day .. I was fifth grade she was six.. she come running up behind me and said “Hi my name's Donna, what's yours” we have been best buds ever since.. I will truly miss my friend.
