DM

“ This is are youngest sister. She was seeing a nurse practitioner who she told her of the pain she had. she was told to take anxiety meds at one point and then to go to mental health. when she went to the ER she was diagnosed with stage 4 renal cell Carcinoma Cancer of the kidney. she was apologized to by the health provider that dropped the ball with her diagnosis. If you have a gut feeling that it's not right please see another Doctor. My sister is in no pain anymore. she is with the light of Christ and our father. feel free our baby sister to visit us in our dreams. Love your eldest sister Dora. May your story save others from knowing your true story.
