Before running her own day care, Hattie Sue worked diligently at Adler-Kay Cabinets, where she built cabinets with precision and care. After living in Southfield, Michigan for many years, Sue moved to Sanilac County, where she lived in several different towns and had been a resident of the Sanilac Medical Care Facility for the past four years. In retirement, Sue was a beloved Grandmother in the Foster Grandparent Program at Sandusky Elementary School, where she worked for three years, bringing joy and wisdom to the children. She loved cats, enjoyed growing tomatoes, and always had a flower garden.

She is survived by her five children, Deborah (Joe) Byrne, Phillip Johnson, Connie (Cliff) Lien, Steven Hill, and Terry (Michele) Hill; 15 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren, and nine great-great-grandchildren, with another great-grandson on the way.

Sue's first husband was the late Robert Bruce Johnson, the father of her three eldest children, Debbie, Phillip, and Connie. Her second husband was the late Norman Hill, the father of her two youngest children, Steve and Terry. Later in life, she married the late Marvin Priemer.

She was preceded in death by two sisters and brothers-in-law, Edith (Ross) Anthony and Shirley (Bill) Detamore.
