“ Uncle Jim, What can I say? I'll miss you greatly & think of you often. I've tried several times recently to get ahold of you, not knowing of your physical dilemmas. Guess this explains why you didn't answer,huh? lol I'll miss your sense of humor, though we both know Gary,John or Dennis will likely take up the slack. I heard that you may have sought OUR LORD and received your salvation. I pray it's true. If you remember, I told you that you were next on my list for salvation after Dennis & I hear he got on his knees. I know your Dad & Mom, My Grandparents, will be there to pridefully greet you upon your arrival. I suspect Howard & Ann will be there as well. As I have told you in our conversations I AM PROUD of you, especially now that you made it to heaven. As promised WE shall have much time to spend together doing who knows what once I make it, too! Thank you for your many insights into our family. I may share some of our chats if it's ok? Sorry I didn't go to your funeral but I'm sure you understand why,huh? I'll try to get ahold of BethAnn, Freddie n Harmony but maybe you can influence that from your new location? lol!!!

“ I'm sorry to hear of Uncle Jim's passing. This has affected me in a totally unexpected way. Uncle Jim is the first of my fathers siblings to pass since he did in 1968. It just leaves me in sadness for his death and makes me wonder how long his oldest brother (my father) might have been with us if he hadn't been hit in the head with a beam. Fred and Beth, I remember so many good times at your home in Lexington Heights years ago when we were children. I have good memories to carry with me. I hope you have some of those good memories with you. God Bless You and your Family

“ To Fred and Beth, and all of Uncle Jim's brothers and sisters (and spouses),

Uncle Jim lived a relatively long life with at least his share of ups and downs. I didn't see Uncle Jim much over the last 35-40 years, especially the years since I moved to the Washington, DC area in 1986. However, I will always remember that Jim was always good and cheerful towards me whenever I did see him. In fact, in the summer of 1969, the year after my father died, Jim generously gave me a job working with him for a couple months while I was home from college. I will always be grateful to him for that.

Sincere condolences from oldest nephew Mike Jackson, and my wife Marvelyn (Belinda) Smith
