“ At Jimmy’s 60th birthday, not too many years ago, James ‘Bunky’ asked me if I had known his grandfather. I was sorry to say I had never met him. Now, I’m thinking Bunky is getting to see his grandfather as well as seeing his dear grandmother Mary again. ❤️

“ The reunion at Anna's wedding. Had been about 15 years since we had last saw each other I think. It was like we had seen each other a day before. We hugged and cracked jokes. We had a few beers and just talked about music. He was a very talented guitar player. We only jammed once. But we were talking about getting with my cuz Dominic and we we're going to jam again. He even said he was going to come down to my house and spend the weekend jamming. We wanted to record some Motown and blues and some hard rock. It was just a great time seeing all the families and we did take some pics together and with the rest of the family. We had talked not more than 5 days ago about the same thing. I guess we have music on the brain. I am going to miss his bear hugs and great smile. I can find no words to say how much I will miss you James. I love you cousin. Reserve a drum kit for me. We will jam together.
