

Martha J. Davis

October 21, 1940 - January 4, 2020

Martha J. Davis was born on October 21, 1940, and died unexpectedly on January 4, 2020, in the farmhouse where she was born, and lived her entire life.

She was preceded in death by her parents, James H. Davis and Beryl J. (Nichol) Davis, brothers, Bill Davis, Paul Davis, Peter Davis, sister-in-law, Judy Davis, and brother-in-law Jack DiGiuseppe.

Martha is survived by sisters Linda DiGiuseppe, Alice Shultz, Sara (Sal) Hernandez, and brothers, Phil (Nancy) Davis, and Joe (Rhonda) Davis, along with many nieces and nephews.

Martha spent many years working on their family farm, and was a talented builder, crafter, painter and pen and ink artist. Every inch of her home showed off her one of a kind art skills, most centered on her love of nature. Her yard also showed her skills, with a log cabin, potting shed, and a nature center, all built by her. The yard was also filled with extensive gardens, all including her unique art skills.

Her favorite place to be was in the woods, no matter what season. She loved being in the woods by herself doing a quiet sketch, or leading a group of three generations of kids on hikes, and teaching them about all things involving nature.

Martha was a longtime member of the Sandusky Jehovah's Witness congregation, where she had many great friends that treated her like family. Her remains will be buried at Crosswell Cemetery, with no public services planned.
