“ Dear Brenda and Family:
Though words and expressions of love and support can never fill the void left from the loss of a mother, I hope the outpouring of love and support for you and your loved ones during this difficult time lifts your spirits and minds if only for a moment. Wishing you and your loved ones peace and love as you prepare for your mother's home going and celebrate the treasured years, memories, lessons, and laughs she gifted you with along the way.

With Deepest Sympathies,

“ Dear Brenda and Family;
While there are no words of condolence I can provide regarding your Mom rejoining our Heavenly Father where peace and joy do abound, I can tell you that over time the pain of this loss will lessen. The memories that others share regarding their time with your Mom along with your own memories of the grand times you shared are what you really need to focus upon with the knowledge that she remembers those same memories too.

“ We had some wonderful family get togethers when we were younger to enjoy each others company with good times & food which Nancy always made alot of. She was an excellent cook & shared many ideas & recipes to make while I was a beginner at learning to cook. She learned from her Polish mother-in-law & made some very good dishes for alot of family members & we brought side dishes to go with her many main dishes.

All of our children, cousins, had a good time playing together & sharing their toys & other gifts together as first cousins.

She was always there to give me support during not only good times but sad times during our lives & I always tried to do the same for her. We never forgot how we helped each other out when one of us needed alot of support & help.

That to me was an excellent example of what being a good sister was all about.

I loved her dearly & will miss talking to her on the phone about all of our grown up children are doing & how very proud we are of them all & what wonderful accomplishments they made in their lives.

I will miss her very much & know she is in heaven for the wonderful caring & loving person she was. She loved pets, & giving to animal shelters to help dogs & other pets to have a better life.

All my love from her sis, as she called me & I called her my baby sister because I always felt like I needed to look after her when we were growing up.

Sincerely,
Martha
